

Navajo Healing Project

2025 Free Chinese Medicine Internship

Cultivate sustainable and empowering healing practices for self, family & community.

*No previous experience in Medicine or Healing required.

For more information and to apply, please visit:

navajohealingproject.com/internship

Internship Details

What is the Internship Program?

Navajo Healing Project Internship Program is a free—grant funded—year-long internship program devoted to teaching and learning Traditional Chinese Medicine in support of Diné Wellness and Healing.

Internship includes:

- Nature based medicine, bodywork, nutrition, gua sha, cupping, moxibustion, emotional healing and more!
- Flexible learning schedule on Zoom.
- Hands on clinic training at locations in Arizona and California.
- Fun, empowering and immersive learning.
- Mentor, peer and community supported healing and learning.

Who is this program for?

Individuals who:

- Want to learn the tools of Traditional Chinese Medicine for healing self & community.
- Are interested in new and radical ways of learning and practicing medicine.
- Understand self-healing is integral to learning how to heal others.

Priority given to Diné
/ Indigenous applicants.
Program begins March, 2025.